Curious Pursuits Occasional Writing

Curious Pursuits is a collection of some of Atwood's shorter non-fiction writing, including some forty seven separate pieces — reviews, speeches, essays and obituaries — which were written between 1970 and 2005. Some of the pieces were about books which I had already read, while others concerned people I had never heard of before, but I found all of them interesting, some of them compassionate, and some of them outright hilarious.

Curious Pursuits, sub-titled Occasional Writing, is divided into three parts: 1970 to 1989, 1990 to 1999, and 2000 to 2005. I read the book from cover to cover and was glad not to have missed a sentence. Some readers may prefer to ignore the chronological order and approach essays which cover particular areas of interest first.
